Excellence, professionalism, innovation, and diversity shape future leaders in hospitality.

HISTORY

Born from a Vision, Driven by Excellence

In August 1991, three Swiss pioneers — Mr. Heinz Bürki, Mr. Tom Maher, and Mr. Rudolf Fischer — brought to life the International Management Institute (IMI) in the lakeside town of Weggis at the iconic Hotel Waldstätten. Welcoming 55 students for the inaugural intake, they set out with an ambitious goal: to be the leading provider of Swiss hospitality education in the German-speaking region of Switzerland.

Swiss Expertise Meets Global Recognition

A milestone partnership with Manchester Metropolitan University in 1995 elevated IMI's academic offerings. This collaboration seamlessly blends the precision of Swiss hospitality training with the prestige of a UK-accredited degree, equipping students with internationally recognised credentials and a multitude of global career opportunities.

A Campus Like No Other

In 1997, IMI moved to its stunning campus in Kastanienbaum, a short 12-minute journey from the city of Luzern and its many historic charms. Nestled on the shores of Lake Luzern and framed by breathtaking Alpine views, the campus is more than just a place to study — it's a home away from home for a global community of aspiring professionals.

A Legacy of Personalised Excellence

With approximately 200 students enrolled each semester, IMI remains true to the vision of its founder, Mr. Heinz Bürki, who, along with his daughter Isabelle, ensure the school retains its signature family spirit and personalised approach to education. These values, combined with academic rigor, create an unparalleled learning experience.

Shaping Leaders, Inspiring Entrepreneurs

Ranked among the top hospitality schools in the world, IMI continues to innovate, aligning its programmes with the evolving demands of the global workplace. Our alumni — leaders, pioneers, and entrepreneurs — embody the essence of Swiss hospitality and the limitless possibilities it unlocks.

FAMILY

Mr. Heinz Bürki

In 1991, Mr. Heinz Bürki transformed a dream into reality with the founding of the International Management Institute (IMI). With a career built on Swiss hospitality's highest standards and a passion for education, he envisioned a school that offered more than knowledge — one that inspired, nurtured, and set the benchmark for personalised learning. From its modest beginnings, IMI quickly became a leader in boutique hospitality education and continues to blend Swiss tradition with global innovation for each new generation of students.

Ms. Isabelle Bürki

Joining Mr. Bürki on this journey was his daughter, Isabelle. Inspired by her father's passion, Isabelle brought fresh energy and a future-focused mindset to IMI. Together, they have created a leadership dynamic that balances Heinz's wealth of experience with Isabelle's forward-thinking perspective and innovation. Her contributions have helped expand IMI's global footprint while staying true to the school's core values of academic excellence, a personalised approach, and unique family spirit.

IMI is home to a vibrant international community, with students from over 35 different countries studying at its Swiss lakeside campus. Under the stewardship of Heinz and Isabelle, IMI has become more than just a school — it's a global family. Their shared vision ensures that IMI continues to lead the way in hospitality education, with tradition meeting modernity, resulting in students who are inspired to achieve their dreams.
